

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

LINCOLN MALI

HEAD OF GROUP CARD AND EMERGING PAYMENTS STANDARD BANK

Lincoln Mali is an experienced banker with over 20 years in the industry. Lincoln has been with the Standard Bank Group for the last 19 years and is currently the Head of Group Card and Emerging Payments. The role is geographically spread across 17 countries on the continent as well as being responsible for facilitating payments between Africa and China. Lincoln has vast experience working on the continent as in his former role he was the Regional Head for the Western Region in Africa; managing the Standard Bank Group Personal and Business Banking franchises in Angola, Democratic Republic of Congo, Ghana, Nigeria and Namibia. Lincoln's academic qualifications include; BA LLB (Rhodes university); MBA (Henley Management College - UK) and an AMP (Harvard Business School). Lincoln has attended various executive programs at universities in South Africa and abroad including Duke University, Thunderbird University, and Insead University. Lincoln is currently the chairman of Diners Club South Africa and has previously held board membership in Stanbic Malawi, Stanbic Zambia, Stanbic Zimbabwe, Eduloan, Technikon South Africa and the Institute of Bankers. Lincoln is an international CEMEA Business Council member for Visa and has been appointed the Regional Member Council for Union Pay International. Lincoln's core expertise are in the areas of leadership, people management, customer service, sales management and business performance